Job Description	◆ Recruitment background TRILL continues to grow into a large-scale service with 40 million monthly users. However, we feel that it is still in its development stage, and we will aim to create products that can generate even greater value with a medium- to long-term perspective. About TRILL: https://trilltrill.jp/ Our development style adopts Scrum, which is an agile development method, and we try to flexibly provide value in a short cycle. In addition to development, we also participate in planning from the early stages and frequently exchange opinions with team members to create good services regardless of job type. Our team members are actively adopting new technologies, so you can challenge yourself with various technologies. ◆ Job description <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Design, development, test, and delivery of the TRILL Android app</li> </ul> ◆ The appeal of this job <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>You can experience developing modern Android apps using Kotlin, Swagger (OpenAPI), etc.</li> <li>You will have the experience to work together with planners and designers to develop services with engineers taking the initiative</li> <li>You can experience developing and operating large-scale services and systems.</li> <li>You will have experience in numerical analysis using Google Analytics, and etc.</li> </ul>
Company Info	dely, Inc. is a company that provides information related to "food" such as recipe videos and services aimed at solving problems in "food and living." In the main recipe video business "kurashiru", we aim to be a "service that is close to people's lives" and send out content such as recipe content. In April 2020, we won the No. 1 position in Japan in terms of the number of users (both web and apps), the number of app DLs, the total number of SNS followers, and the number of recipe videos. "TRILL," a media for adult women, has won the number one monthly user number in Japan, and publishes various contents such as fashion, beauty, romance, fortune-telling, and lifestyle. By adding "TRILL" to the service, the total number of monthly users including "Kurashiru" has exceeded 40 million. As of October 2020, the number of employees is about 140, and the average age is 29 years old. Members have various previous jobs such as engineers, creators, marketers, and cooks. What I am aware of in internal communication is to create a flat and open environment. The management has professed that they will "give up their seats to those who are more capable than themselves," giving everyone an equal chance. ◆ Culture It is said that "one-third of life is work", but dely is characterized by a high awareness of time. In order to minimize the number and time of meetings, we thoroughly implement "30 minutes in principle". At the same time, in order to effectively utilize the limited time and strengthen the bonds between members, we have set up many events that promote communication, such as club activities and watching the Hakone Ekiden by volunteers.
